TID BITS FROM THE SHED

- Gone Fishing. Dave Bear, our workshop manager is in the top end working hard – just look at this monster barramundi ay 95cm!

Mind you, Dave deserves some good luck. He hit a pot hole on the way up and it tore the U-bolt of one of his caravan axles. It did quite a bit of damage and he needed a tow but with insurance and the NRMA he wasn't too much out of pocket. Any chance of a fish BBQ when you get back?

- Big Band Saw. Charlie asked for a more convenient off switch on the downstairs band saw in the interests of safety. George Falzon, our electrical/electronics genius came to the party, purchased the parts and installed it. The old switch is still there, top left and the new one is bottom right. The old one still works and they work a bit like a two way switch. Well done George!

- Sunnyfield Disability Centre. Remember when we used to do kit assembly sessions at the disability centre Lifestyle Solutions at Taylors Beach? Well, Jo who worked there now runs the Sunnyfield Disability Centre in Nelson Bay and she came up to the workshop to ask us to run some sessions for her. We're just working out the dates and times.

Jokes of the Month

Elon Musk: China will never be able to replicate our technology.

China:

Coming soon to a street near you!

Street golf

Grandchildren

Two old ladies, Dolly and Ruby were talking about their grandchildren.

Dolly said "Each year at Christmas, I send my grandchildren a card with a very generous cheque inside but I never hear from them or receive a thankyou card.

Ruby replies "I too, send my grandchildren a very generous cheque but I hear from them within a week after they receive it. In fact they each pay me a personal visit."

"Wow, how come?" remarked Dolly. "Very simple solution", says Ruby.... "I don't sign the cheques!"

The Carpenter and the Professor

Two old friends, a carpenter and a professor run into each other. They chit-chat a bit and they start to talk about work.

Professor: "So, what are you working with nowadays?"

Carpenter: "I'm a carpenter. And you?"

Professor: "I'm a professor.

Carpenter: "In what field?"

Professor: "Logic."

Carpenter: "Logic?"

Professor: "Yeah... Let me demonstrate for you. You have an aquarium at home, don't you?"

Carpenter: "Yes?"

Professor: "And since you have an aquarium it's pretty logical that you have fishes?"

Carpenter: "Yeah?"

Professor: "And if you have fishes I think it's logical that you like animals."

Carpenter: "Yes I do."

Professor: "And since you like animals it's only logical that you like humans, right?"

Carpenter: "I do, I do!"

Professor: "And when we talk about humans, it's the female kind you really like, am I right?"

Carpenter: "Of course, hehe!"

Professor: "And that's logic for you. Since you had an aquarium at home it's only logical that you like females."

Carpenter: "Ooooh! Now I see."

They say farewell to each other and the carpenter meets up with another friend of his.

Carpenter: "You know, I just met an old friend. He's a professor in logic!"

Friend: "Logic?"

Carpenter: "Yeah, let me demonstrate for you. Do you have an aquarium at home?"

Friend: "No?"

Carpenter: "What? Are you gay?"

Editor's Note: The Editor is away for the month of June, so there will be no June Woodnews unless someone puts their hand up for Assistant Editor!
